The Struggle In Mississippi Is To Maintain A Way Of Life; An Editor Sums Up The Story

The eyes of America and the world are on the State of Mississippi this week. Any individual who has followed the story of the proposed integration of the University of Mississippi undoubtedly has formed an opinion in the matter.

Some of those opinions must range from whole-hearted agreement with the action of the Federal government to violent opposition and condemnation of the courts and the law. As in any controversy there are rabble-rousers, hot-heads and publicity seekers. There are also sound thinking, vitally concerned individuals who see both sides of the question while forming an opinion to bolster their own convictions.

An editorial in the Clarksdale (Miss.) Press-Register last Wednesday was written by an editor who loves his State, has respect for the laws of the land and knows the feelings of his people in this momentous decision.

The editorial is entitled "The Final Act." It was written before Federal troops were marshaled in Mississippi and before gun-shots were fired and lives lost in the bitter struggle to maintain a way of life.

So that you might know something of the thoughts that permeate the minds of the people in Mississippi today we are reprinting the editorial from the Clarksdale Press-Register. Here it is:

"As this is written, the stage is set at the University of Mississippi for the final act in the month-long drama which is rapidly drawing to a close. As in a Greek tragedy, we know that a major disaster is impending, and like the murmuring extras on the stage we stand by, helpless to avert it.

"The doomed heroes in this case are several—the republican concept of a Federal government of limited powers, the rights of the people of the several states to control and regulate—rightly or wrongly, wisely or unwisely—their own affairs, and, most important, the status of a great university.

"The villains are many. A pushing, militant minority determined to obtain their "rights" even if in the process they destroy the governmental concepts which must ultimately insure all rights. A power-motivated, politically-dominated national administration which will stop at nothing to achieve its goals. A somewhat confused state administration, trying to protect a great and sound principle, without knowing quite how to do it.

"We do not know what events will transpire later. There is speculation about the Federal government sending troops to enforce the edicts of its subservient courts. This would be the height of folly. There is talk of Governor Ross Barnett closing Ole Miss to preclude the entrance of Negro James Meredith. This would be the ultimate tragedy.

"As we now see it, the questions of law and state-Federal powers should be continued to be fought out in the courts without Mississippi yielding in any particular on the correctness of its position. The question of Meredith's status at the university should be left to the proved and competent administrative officials and to the wisdom and commonsense of the student body. The question of the future of the Kennedy Administration should be left to the outraged reaction of the electorate.

"Through decades of war and poverty and subjugation by many of the same powers now arrayed against us it has taken the people of Mississippi nearly 115 years to build and develop a great university system.

"It has survived threats to its survival and integrity equally as great as the one it now faces. It must not be sacrificed now.

"The future of an entire generation is dependent upon maintaining our higher educational system operating.

"However painful the alternatives this must be our paramount objective. Wisdom and leadership can keep the University of Mississippi in being, and the same wisdom and leadership can ultimately make our views prevail on the larger questions of Constitutional law.

With Challenges Still Before Kentucky, There Are Many 'Firsts' In Every Section Of State

At this time of the year the accent is on sports. And in any sports event the paramount interest is the battle for victory. In baseball jargon you've often heard the saying: "It's who's on first that counts."

That baseball term should be transferred to the thinking of all Kentuckians as one views the accomplishments being achieved in all fields of endeavor by the Combs-Wyatt Administration in Frankfort.

Of course there have been errors made along the way. With so many human beings involved in the vast complex of government, it would be the exception, rather than the rule, if the efforts were accomplished without incident of misjudgments. But with great challenges and needs still before us, there are new accomplishments in every section of the Commonwealth—from the plains of the Jackson Purchase to the banks of the Big Sandy, from the oxbow bends of the Ohio River to the Pinnacle at Cumberland Gap.

A fistful of new "firsts" among the states helps tell the story:

Last year Kentucky was first among the states in percentage increase in teachers' salaries.

Kentucky has the nation's number one program of expansion, improvement and development of her State parks system, a program which has made Kentucky the number one parks state and which will further develop our tourist and travel industry.

Kentucky is the first state to qualify with the Federal Government for state control of atomic materials for peacetime uses. This puts Kentucky in position to be the first bidder for industries using these nuclear materials.

Kentucky has become the first state to win the "Keep America Beautiful" award.

This spring the Jenkins Public Library was selected as the best small library in the nation and won the Book-of-the-Month Club's $5,000 award.

Kentucky has the first statewide geological mapping program in progress. The state is rich in minerals, and this program will be valuable in economic development.

Kentucky was first in developing five different governmental and private financing programs for new and expanding industries.

Kentucky's vocational training program is pointed out as the leader among all the southern states in a report by the Center for Southern Education Studies.

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission.

By JOE JORDAN

(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week a Union army under the command of Major Gen. Don Carlos Buell arrived at Louisville, its base of supplies, with its wagon trains empty. A Confederate army under Gen. Braxton Bragg, which could have reached Louisville first and thus have cut Buell off from his base, instead had turned off the Manfordsville-to-Louisville road and marched to Bardstown.

Besides having access to supplies at Louisville, Buell had the further advantage of being across the Ohio River from Indiana and thus being able to draw reinforcements from that state and from Illinois and Ohio. And he added to his army the troops with which Union Major Gen. William Nelson had been preparing to defend Louisville if Bragg attacked there.

Nelson during his desperate efforts to make Louisville defensible in case Bragg got there before Buell did, had rebuked Brig. Gen. Jefferson C. Davis of Indiana for what Nelson considered negligent or inefficient discharge of duty and ordered him to report to Major Gen. Horatio G. Wright at Cincinnati, commander of the Department of the Ohio. Upon Buell's arrival at Louisville, Wright ordered Davis to report to Gen. Buell. Davis first went to Indianapolis and got Indiana Gov. O. P. Morton to go to Louisville with him. In the lobby of a Louisville hotel, the Galt House, Davis renewed his quarrel with Gen. Nelson and killed him with a pistol. He was never prosecuted for the slaying, either in the civil courts of Jefferson County or by an Army court-martial.

At Augusta, during the week under review, Col. Basil W. Duke with about 450 of Col. John Hunt Morgan's Confederate cavalry troopers encountered desperate resistance from Union Home Guard soldiers who were firing from brick houses in the Ohio River town. It was necessary to take the houses by forcing entrance and overcoming the defenders in hand-to-hand fighting. "I never saw them fight with such ferocity," Duke said of his men. "Few lives were spared in the houses into which they forced their way." Some houses were burned.

Some of the best officers in Morgan's command were killed in the Augusta fight. One of them was Capt. Samuel D. Morgan, a cousin of the cavalry commander. Another was Lt. William Courtland Prentice, a son of George D. Prentice, the strongly Unionist editor of the Louisville Journal. Still another was First Lt. Greenberry Roberts, 19, described by Duke as "gay, handsome and a university favorite."

Duke had intended to cross the Ohio River at a ford near Augusta and approach Cincinnati, creating an alarm which he hoped would cause Union troops in the vicinity of Walton, Ky., to be recalled to defend the city. After suffering such heavy losses at Augusta, Col. Duke had to call off the project.

A GREAT PLACE FOR GROWING

What a wonderful place Mid-America is for fast-growing children.

Wonderful, because it's also fruitful for growing industries that will provide children with good jobs when they grow up.

That's a good reason why we spend time and money helping industry to grow. We advertise to attract new industries, and our alert, hard-working Industrial Development Department sells them on communities we serve.

Each year about a hundred new industries locate along this railroad. They like Mid-America and the kind of up-and-coming, low-cost transport the Illinois Central provides.

Helping Mid-America grow is part of our job. We believe this benefits everyone, including youngsters growing up all over Mid-America.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

We never seem to remember exact quotations, but somewhere we've read something like "never let the setting sun fall upon some deed undone." Last week-end we attended the Democratic Women's Club state meeting in Lexington. Earlier we had an invitation to attend the second annual Fall Festival at Shakertown, near Harrodsburg. Last Friday the Shakertown Board honored members of the Kentucky Press Association and Governor Bert Combs and we decided to do everything we could to attend that reception in our capacity as a newspaper editor. We did, and the sun did indeed set that night on a deed we had wanted to accomplish to feed our inquisitive mind.

Make no mistake about it. Shakertown Community at Pleasant Hill will someday hold the national tourist attraction as does Williamsburg, Va. A dedicated group of men and women have undertaken the monumental task of restoring the quaint Shaker Community with the funds received from private donations and memberships in the Friends of Shakertown group. We had the pleasure of having as our guide Mrs. Floyd Wright who gave us some extra information about the restoration of the project.

Last year was the first year that the group opened the community to the public. More than 2000 people attended the first open house at that time. Now interest in the development has become so keen that this year more than 650 people per day stop to visit, browse around and learn something of the simplicity and discipline of the life lived by the Shakers. You'll be putting this tremendous tourist attraction on your "must" list the very next time you are in Central Kentucky, so we'd like to give you just a little bit of the background of the history behind the Shaker Community.

The Shaker village lies atop a gently sloping plateau overlooking the limestone palisades of the Kentucky River, 22 miles southwest of Lexington and seven miles east of Harrodsburg.

The town, which is surrounded by meadows, woods and fields and is enclosed by 20 miles of rustic stone fence, was considered by Shaker leaders at New Lebanon, N. Y., as the most beautiful of all the Shaker colonies.

Not only was it one of the largest, most successful and long-lived communities of the scores of colonies that flourished more than a century ago, but today it is the most complete Shaker village remaining in America.

More than 22 buildings still are standing including the houses, meeting house, trustee's office, work shops, barns and other farm buildings.

The Shakers probably were most noted for their celibate faith and for their religious dances and rituals. Couples who were caught disobeying the celibacy injunction were "sent out into the world."

The Shakers developed a unique way of life characterized by order, industry, dedication to socially useful manual labor, benevolence and concern for the common welfare. Their culture was utilitarian in the extreme and found its truest expression in a functional architecture and the advancement of the agricultural and mechanical arts.

They were careful and systematic farmers and led the state in the improvement of various types of livestock. They developed one of the largest shorthorn farms in the United States and were among the first to introduce the Berkshire hog and the Kake-well sheep into Kentucky.

They had their own nurseries and planted such experimental crops as Chinese sugar cane. As early as 1822, they were pioneering in the development of a Kentucky silk culture.

If you see Kenneth Turner walking around in some kind of a daze he's entitled to it. This week we are announcing that he is the new owner of WFUL and then along comes his son Kenneth who does us one better. To the younger Turners was born a lovely, eight pound girl last Saturday at Hillview Hospital. This is the first grandchild for Kenneth and Agnes and you just know what that means. The young mother is the former Shelley Davis of Carmi, Illinois.

The only sad note to the week is the fact that A-2C Turner is in the United States Air Force Security Service stationed in Formosa. Young Ken graduated from the Air Force Institute of Far Eastern languages at Yale University and studied Mandarin Chinese. If he has gotten the cable about his lovely young daughter we'll bet he's saying all kinds of things in Chinese wishing he could speed the time until he can come home. We're speeding the time for him in good ole Americana.

Bailey Binford is at home for a few days between quarters of his studies at the University of Tennessee Medical School at Memphis. You just know Bob and Louise are glad to have their son home, even if it is for a short visit.

Mrs. T. E. Murdaugh is having a happy time this week-end with welcome visits from two of her friends from Selmer, Tenn. Mrs. Z. B. Thompson and Mrs. W. A. Barksdale are enjoying Fulton's hospitality as everybody does. Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Maxwell McDade had a good time, too, reminiscing about "the old days." Ruby and Mrs. Thompson were high school classmates.

Mary Nelle Wright has gotten her hands into printer's ink again. Mary Nelle, who originated our Diary of Doin's column and wrote it for many years, now is editor of the Tella-Type, an informative newsletter for members of the Fulton Woman's Club. We were happy to get Number One. Volume One this week. The periodical is written enthusiastically and with a gay, informal style and should do what it is intended to do... get more members interested and active in the work of the Woman's Club.

The Junior Music Club had a lovely pot-luck supper meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. C. D. Edwards. Five new members — Teresa Pennington, Treva Lou Hedge, Shirley Bard, Christina McKinney and Belinda Newton—were welcomed into the club.

Plans were lightly touched for the Christmas caroling and future programs were discussed. Instead of the regular November meeting, Bob Anderson will present a concert open to the public. Treva Lou Hedge, Mandel Brown and Jane Edwards were on the program.

Eighteen Fulton golfers were guests of the Murray Country Club last week. Virginia Rogers of Fulton and Betty Lowery of Murray won medalist honors at the Intercity Ladies Day meet.

Fulton ladies making the trip included Virginia Rogers, Jewell Myatt, Nell Newton, Zane Taylor, Cindy Hale, Jane Edwards, Martha Hale, Betty Wade, Ethel McDaniel, Alberta Green, Margaret Hall, Louise Binford, Ruby McDade, Martha Putnam, Maurine Treas, Margaret Homra, Vivian Williamson, and Jane Smith.

Fultonians attending the Ole Miss-Kentucky football game in Jackson, Mississippi Saturday included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boyd, Dr. and Mrs. Glynn Bushart, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fall, Dr. and Mrs. Ward Bushart, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Callahan and Mikie, Dr. and Mrs. R. V. Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Holloway and Lynn Holloway, Al Bushart, Bob Vowell and Bailey Binford.

The Welfare Workers Home Demonstration Club met in the lovely home of Mrs. Ora Golden September 26 at 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Roy Watts called the meeting to order. Mrs. V. L. Phillips led the group in song. Mrs. Karl Kimberlin and Miss Thelma Golden sang a special, "It is No Secret."

Mrs. Box Elliott gave the devotional and Mrs. Karl Kimberlin read the club creed. Roll call was answered with a favorite teacher. Twelve members and two visitors were present.

Officers for the coming year were elected. They are as follows: Mrs. Roy Watts, president; Mrs. Bob Elliott, vice president; Mrs. Guy Finch, secretary; Mrs. Roy Nabors, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Parrish, reporter.

Project leaders were Mrs. Harry Watts, reading, and Mrs. V. L. Phillips, crafts.

Recreation was given by Mrs. Lon Watts, Mrs. Harry Watts and Mrs. Frank Parrish were the winners.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Lon Watts October 24 at 10:30. It will feature a pot-luck luncheon at noon.

50th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated By Ridgeways In Belleville, Illinois

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Ridgeway of Belleville, Illinois, celebrated their fiftieth Wedding Anniversary at their home Sunday with a lovely Open House during the afternoon hours.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Ridgeway honored their parents with a lovely dinner party in a downtown restaurant Sunday evening. Four generations were present at the dinner. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ridgeway, their daughter, Mrs. Maurice O. Shevelin of Evanston, Illinois, her daughter, Mrs. Richard L. Morgan III of Des Plaines, Illinois, and her little son, Michael Morgan of Des Plaines.

Miss Linda Lou Neely, Larry Dexter Wed In Ceremony At Sandy Branch

Miss Linda Lou Neely, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Neely of Martin and Larry Duane Dexter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornell A. Dexter of Fenton, Mich., were united in marriage Friday, Sept. 14, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the Sandy Branch Primitive Baptist Church.

The Rev. Harvey Smith of Dresden officiated. Jerry C. King of Howell, Mich., organist, and Mrs. Bufon Spalding, vocalist, presented the nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a five tiered net over satin floor length gown. The fitted bodice of chantilly lace over white satin featured long tapering sleeves that formed points over the wrists and a sabrina neckline. Her finger tip length illusion veil fell from a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a heart shaped bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Arnold-Robey Wedding Vows Are Pledged At Walnut Grove Church

Miss Nancy Arnold became the bride of Louis F. Robey on Tuesday evening, September 18.

Miss Arnold is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arnold of 117 Beaumont St., Martin, and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lee Arnold of McConell, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Heathscott of Tipton, Tennessee.

Mr. Robey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Robey of Route 3, Martin. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Sank Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Ike Robey of near Martin.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at six o'clock by Rev. Harold C. Craig, pastor, in Walnut Grove Methodist Church, before the immediate families and close friends.

Baskets of white gladioli and bridal greenery decorated the altar and the traditional fourteen-unit candelabra holding glowing white tapers completed the scene.

For her wedding the bride wore a street length dress of white lace, satin and chiffon. The bodice was designed with a Capri neckline and quarter-length sleeves. The skirt was fully gathered chiffon over satin. Her circular shoulder-length veil of white nylon tulle, was trimmed with tiny seed pearls and attached to a headpiece of lace and pearls. She wore short wrist length gloves of satin trimmed in lace and pearls which came to Calla points on her hands. Her only jewelry was a set of pearl earrings and she carried a white Bible topped with a large white orchid.

Mrs. Betty Gatewood, sister of the bride, was the only attendant. She wore a brownblau clustered dress designed also sheath lines. Beige accessories at a corsage of white carnations completed her ensemble.

James Heath attended the groom as his best man.

Mrs. Arnold chose for her daughter's wedding a black and white dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Robey, mother of the groom, was wearing a black and white dress with black accessories. Her corsage was also of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Harold Craig, 305 Gwynes Street, South Fulton. Mrs. Craig was the hostess.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a dark olive green print dress. Her accessories were green and the orchid from her Bible was pinned on her shoulder.

Mr. Robey is a graduate of Martin High School, Martin, and attended the University of Tennessee at Martin, where he studied Business Administration and was a member of the ROTC Band. The bride also attended Martin High School.

Upon return from their trip the couple will reside near Martin.

Steamer Avalon Gets A New Name, But It's Old Timer For Pleasure

Louisville, historic Falls City of the Ohio River and metropolitan center of Kentucky, is acknowledging anew her birth as a river port by the purchase and refurbishing of an old-timer of the river, the Steamer Avalon, now christened the Belle of Louisville.

The 48-year-old sternwheeler was actually purchased by Jefferson County, when County Judge Marlow Cook this summer submitted a high bid of $34,000 at an auction in Cincinnati. Louisville Mayor William O. Cowger has pledged some $20,000 in City funds to make the Avalon mechanically sound and to improve its somewhat battered appearance. Repair work is now under way. This fall and winter, the steamer will probably be open to the public with full-scale activities on the Ohio scheduled to begin next spring.

To recapture the aura of showboats and dandies, Louisville's chapter of the American Institute of Decorators is studying the decor of turn-of-the-century steamboats and will make recommendations on redecorating the Avalon.

A new name for the river-ready, redecorated Avalon has also been selected—the Belle of Louisville. Louisville's birth at the Falls of the Ohio suggests several roles for the steamer. Until 10 years ago, Louisville school children were treated to an annual river boat cruise, highlighted by passing through U. S. Lock and Dam 41. A similar trip would display Louisville's river-front possibilities to industrial prospects. The sternwheeler could also serve as a floating convention hall for local and national groups.

Whatever role the oldtimer will play, it probably won't be a new one.

The sternwheeler was built in 1914 at Pittsburgh and christened

BY NEXT SPRING the 48-year old steamer Avalon will once again pour smoke and calliope music over the Louisville waterfront, following the example of dozens of steamers which once docked at Louisville each week. Louisville and Jefferson County have undertaken the project of repairing and refurbishing the well-traveled sternwheeler, purchased by the County at auction earlier this year. Here the river veteran (foreground) is pictured at the Louisville wharf with the famed Delta Queen, only steamer still offering overnight accommodations.

the Idlewild. It was operated as a ferry at Memphis for many years. New owners converted it to an excursion boat in 1930. As a pleasure craft the sternwheeler was manned by a crew of 22 and carried a maximum of 1,370 passengers. In 1948 the name was changed to the Avalon. Until last year, her home port was Cincinnati.

Just how the Belle of Louisville will operate in Louisville is largely in the hands of an advisory committee set up by Judge Cook. On the committee is Mrs. Raymond E. Montgomery whose father, the late Henry Meyer, operated the boat as the Idlewild from 1928 to 1947.

Before the appearance of steam engines and long before today's diesel-powered barges, keel-boats carried passengers and goods in and out of Louisville. The first of these docked in June 1800, with a cargo of 720 barrels of flour from Pennsylvania. Just before the War of 1812, the first steamboat, the Orleans, tied up at the same wharf. In 1830 the barrier presented by the Falls of the Ohio was eliminated by the opening of the Portland Canal. Within a few years, showboats were on the scene, bringing melodramas and back-yard versions of Shakespearean dramas. Louisville's Coast Guard station was established in 1881 to rescue small boats caught in the rapids and is the only inland station still operated in the U. S.

Steamboats have all but disappeared from the nation's rivers but the Ohio has at least continued as a busy mover of freight. Tonnage on the Ohio during 1960 totaled 79,477,596, compared with 59,258,219 tons on the Panama Canal during the same year. Of the Ohio River tonnage, 5,816,999 tons passed through the Port of Louisville.

The Delta Queen, operating on the Mississippi River system including the Ohio, is probably the only remnant of America's romantic packet boats. Only last year the Avalon and the Delta Queen blasted out in a calliope duet which recalled the famous steamboat races of Louisville's earlier days. The calliope battle ended in a tie when witnesses could declare neither calliope the

The original calliope was not included when Jefferson County bought the Avalon last year. But recently a Louisville businessman donated a new instrument for the

in bold, clear print. They know, I am sure, how deeply we are indebted to them.

There is not enough type, nor paper in the shop, to enumerate the names of the people to whom we shall be everlastingly grateful. Advertisers, civic leaders and the hundreds and hundreds of unseen friends whose letters of appreciation always came when we needed them most, are among the many who deserve our thanks.

The operation of WFUL has been a completely rewarding and challenging experience. We made some friends and we lost some. But we shall think of them not as our enemies, but as people with whom we shared honest disagreements. I shall not disassociate myself entirely from the broadcast field. In the wonderful relationship that exists between the Turners and the Westphelings the door is always open to use the airwaves at WFUL whenever needed in the best interest of promoting and developing the welfare of the twin cities.

And so again thank you for your wonderful forbearance and understanding of my role as a broadcaster. If the Turners get just half, and I am sure they will get much more, of the cooperation you gave to us, they too will always look upon their broadcasting endeavor with the same pleasure that we have.

TURNERS—

Mr. Turner is on stranger to radio, nor to this area. He entered the radio field in 1937, graduating from the National Radio Institute in 1939. He taught radio with the U. S. Army during the war years and has since served as engineer, program director and manager for radio stations in Mayfield, Murray, Corbin and Fulton, Kentucky. He has held a First Class license as Engineer since 1944.

In addition to his broad experience in the field of radio, Mr. Turner also has an LL.B. degree in Law and has been a licensed minister of the Methodist Church for the past ten years. Mrs. Turner is the daughter of Paul Green of Dublin, Ky. They were married in 1939 and have two children. Kenneth Junior, 21, is in the Security Service of the U. S. Air Force in Formosa. Betty Joyce, 15, is a sophomore at Fulton High School. They have one grand-daughter.

Radio Station WFUL went on the air in July 1951. The corporation to operate the station was formed by a group of local businessmen and women. Mr. and Mrs. Westpheling were charter stockholders. In 1955 the majority of the stock held by the local stockholders was sold to Warren Moxley of Blytheville, Ark. In November 1955, the Westphelings purchased the controlling interest in the corporation from Mr. Moxley. Mrs. Westpheling assumed the general management of the station in June 1956.

The sale of the station is subject to the approval of the Federal Communications Commission in Washington.

Letters To Editor

This past weekend, while all eyes focused on the state of Mississippi, history was indeed being made. Americans fighting Americans, bloodshed, and a grand finale that should please some Americans. "Death". Countless thousands shouting, "stay in there Barnett, or go get-im, Kennedy". Rioting young men, our citizens of tomorrow, throwing bottles, lead pipes, bricks, etc. at Federal marshals. Federal troops retaliating, tear gas, bayonettes, gunfire, clubs and rifle butts, these are our citizens of today.

Mississippi claims victory, Washington seems pacified, yet in their wake... death! The grim truth to the whole tragic story is that both the state and the government have failed miserably. The winner is our deadliest enemy, "Communism". The state failed when it first sought to disobey the government. The government failed when it flexed its mighty muscles on its own people. Communism won, again, when Americans lowered themselves to the Communist level of hating and fighting among themselves. Americans, running, screaming, fighting, even lying, here in America. Gone and forgotten our code, "United we stand, divided we fall!" How low is the prestige of the American government? The prestige that caused our men to fight and die for in Japan and Germany during World War Two.

And while this ungodly bedlam was taking place in Mississippi, Krushchev was very jubilant. Ships from Russia were preparing to ship more men and war like supplies to Cuba. The eyes of the world were on Mississippi and temporarily off Cuba. America fell for a cleverly baited trap and the Castro Regime is the proud recipient of more Russian supplies.

Krushchev has stated that Communism will whip the world. America has one half of Korea, one half of Berlin... one half of Cuba? Will our children actually grow up under Communism? Krushchev says they will. And the way that the American people are dividing themselves, killing each other, it might happen.

We have a government, "Of the people, for the people, by the people." We have God on our side. If the officials of the States, and the Government will, in the spirit of prayer, work together, then America will once again regain its prestige and be recognized as the Great Land that it is. But if we continue to fight among ourselves, then we have no right in Berlin, Cuba, or any other country where they are fighting just like we are doing. To regain our prestige, to be strong and respected we must, quote—"Let brotherly love continue,"

OUIDA JEWELL—

Nichols and Teresa. This we enjoyed very much. Then, it was on to Canada and Quebec City.

The historic City of Quebec is the most beautiful, the most unusual and the most interesting city we have ever visited. There, we hired a guide—a high school teacher—to take us over the city and show us the points of interest. The town is built on three levels and the old part of the city is walled in. Some of the streets we passed through were so narrow, I thought the sides of my car would be crushed in.

Among the many points of interest we visited in Canada, was a reconstructed pioneer town, similar to Williamsburg, Va. We had planned to go on to Nova Scotia, the home of Evangeline, but changed our plans.

From Canada we drove to the state of Maine, on down through the other New England states, including New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Delaware, states we had not been in previously. Everywhere we went we found the countryside beautiful, many historical places to see and the people very friendly.

In New York, we would have loved to visit with our friends, Winnie and Tom Cataldo and their children, but traffic and time prevented me from driving out to their Long Island home. I dropped them a postcard, instead.

From New York we headed for Richmond and the colonial city of Williamsburg, Va. Then, to Grundy, Va. to see my cousin, Dorothy Bailey. (We always have a wonderful time when we visit Dot and her family.) We also visited many historical places in Virginia, including where Lee surrendered to Grant at the close of the Civil War.

The next stops on our schedule were Asheville, N. C., and South Carolina, two other states we hadn't previously visited, then, on to the Smokey Mountains and Gatlinburg, Tenn.

When we arrived home Saturday afternoon, after completing the four-thousand mile trip, we felt as if we had been around the world. In fact, I felt a little like mother, who said after someone had asked where we had been, "I'm a little embarrassed to tell people we have been so many places in just two weeks!"

But, now we only have five more states to go and then we will have visited them all!

Sandra Cash, Homecoming Queen, Crowned In Colorful Ceremonies

Highlighting the colorful pre-game ceremonies at Memorial Stadium on Homecoming night was the coronation of a petite, brown-haired sophomore as the 1962 Fulton High Homecoming Football Queen.

Miss Sandra Cash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Cash, was crowned by halfback Tommy Powell, a senior and captain of the Bulldog team.

The ceremonies followed a parade through the downtown area. The Fulton High Marching Band and the majorettes led the parade. The FHS cheerleaders, the three attendants, and the Queen followed in convertibles.

The attendants were Miss Cathy Campbell, Miss Darlene Roberts, and Miss Carole Pigue.

As the automobiles rounded the field, the band played a medley of songs. The Queen and her court were escorted across the field by the football team.

The Queen and her attendants were dressed in blue. The crown bearer was little Suzanne Byars, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Byars.

The fourth straight victory for the Bulldogs followed. The Big Blue rolled over Providence 54-13.

Rotary Seeks Patients For Memphis Hospital

The Rotary Clubs in the Jackson Purchase Territory of Kentucky are now preparing their annual drive to raise money for their contribution to the Hospital for Crippled Adults, Memphis, Tennessee, it was announced today by Harry W. Roberts, Jr., of Clinton, Kentucky, a director of the Hospital. In making his report to the clubs Mr. Roberts pointed out that for the years 1960-1962, 28 patients received medical and surgical services, free of charge at the hospital with a total number of 152 hospital days.

The Rotarians in the clubs of Clinton, Fulton, Paducah, Benton, Mayfield and Murray have joined with the Rotary Clubs of the Mid-South in supporting the 56 bed hospital operated for free orthopedic treatment to the physically handicapped persons over 21 years of age. The hospital was started in 1923 and since that time has physically rehabilitated thousands of men and women enabling them to become self-sustaining and in many cases capable of caring for their dependents. Not one penny has ever been spent for any doctor services rendered and yet the hospital is staffed by the most competent orthopedic surgeons in the world. The hospital is an outgrowth of a suggestion of Dr. Willis Campbell of the Campbell Clinic of Memphis, Tennessee, to the Memphis Rotary Club that if they would provide the facilities that his Clinic would furnish the medical staff for the treatment of physically handicapped persons in Memphis. Since that humble suggestion in 1923, the hospital has grown to include the entire Mid-South and has an annual operating budget of $140,000.00.

The Rotarians of the District are in constant search of patients for the hospital. Mr. Roberts pointed out that any adult who can be benefited by orthopedic treatment and is unable to pay for it, is eligible for admission. Admission is secured by formal application. The blanks are available from any Rotarian but if they cannot be obtained from anywhere else, Mr. Roberts has asked that he be contacted by writing Harry W. Roberts, Jr., Commonwealth's Attorney, First Judicial District, Clinton, Kentucky and he will be glad to forward the application.

In 1961 the hospital treated a total of 821 patients for a total number of hospital days of 12,- 118,00. The hospital has complete facilities for x-ray, cast service, brace shop and physical therapy. These facilities are maintained by the contributions of the Rotary Clubs of 10 Rotary Districts comprising the Mid-South surrounding Memphis, Tennessee, which have a total investment of over a quarter of a million dollars in the facilities as presently operated.

Mr. Roberts said that Rotarians in the District are constantly in search for new patients however there are many who are eligible and who could be helped by the treatment and services available that do not know of the hospital. Therefore, the present program of the Rotary Clubs of the District, is not so much a fund raising campaign as it is a campaign to find patients to accept the treatment.

Cafeteria Improved By Modern Additions

The next time you eat in the cafeteria, why don't you peep in the window and see the new conveniences which have been added?

There is a new General Electric All-Purpose oven, which stands twenty-three inches from the floor. Back-bending drudgery has been eliminated because of its convenient height. Also, a new fifteen-foot freezer is one of the added appliances. Mrs. Williamson says that this freezer will be an economy, for it will eventually pay for itself.

Probably one of the things which have attracted the most attention is the new silverware dispenser.

These improvements will add greatly to the efficiency of the cafeteria.

Explorers Re-elect Roper As President

Explorer Post 43 had its regular meeting Thursday night, September 13, at the Fulton Youth Center. Thomas Exum, post advisor, outlined and discussed a future trip to Crystal Mountain near Hot Springs, Arkansas. As of now, the trip will take place in October, which will most likely prove to be one of the more interesting outings.

The post's yearly officer election was also held. Barry Roper was re-elected president. Ken Morgan, the new vice-president, has been very active in the post. The secretary, Barry Adams has been re-elected to his post, while the new treasurer, Freddie Wells, has taken over the money. The new quarter-master, Glenn Exum, will keep up with all equipment. The new social director, Harold Martin, and his assistant, Ronnie Wall, will show the post great times at socials. Jerry Elliott as historian and Jerry Wells as his assistant have their job cut out for them. A new public relations officer, Richard Fry, has been appointed to work with Bill Hancock.

This year the Explorers have two new assistant post advisors, Harry Williams and Willis Elliott. Harry is attending college at UTMB now and Willis holds a steady job in town. These boys have graduated from high school, which automatically relieves them of the right to be regular post members, but they are interested enough in exploring to remain with the post as senior members. The meeting was closed with a prayer by Harold Martin.

SENATOR MORTON IS BETTER QUALIFIED TO REPRESENT YOU IN THE U.S. SENATE

Senator Morton's views are the views of Kentuckians from all sections of the state and all walks of life. His views are founded on valuable experience as a businessman, an employer, a congressman, a veteran, and as a senator in time of great national peril. There is no substitute for experience!

REVIEW SENATOR MORTON'S RECORD

As a BUSINESSMAN, Senator Morton successfully led Kentucky's Ballard Mills' expansion and increased use of farm products.

As a true friend of LABOR, Senator Morton guaranteed his employees a full 40-hour week when at the depth of the depression, only 25 hours production were needed to meet demand.

As a SERVICEMAN and VETERAN, Senator Morton has served his country well. 51 months of active naval duty—mostly at sea in the Pacific. He is a member of the American Legion, V. F. W. and Naval Reserve.

As a CONGRESSMAN, Senator Morton was acclaimed by the COURIER-JOURNAL as an outstanding leader... and was re-elected twice.

As ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE, Senator Morton helped shape our nation's foreign policy and made us all proud of his face-to-face negotiations with the Russians and other communist nations.

As your U.S. SENATOR, Senator Morton has served you admirably. He is a member of the two important Senate legislative committees: Finance and Commerce.

You are going to hire a United States Senator November 6. One of the applicants is Thruston Morton, your present senator. Senator Morton is for the American way of life, the free enterprise system, he is against socialized medicine, socialized business, he is against Communism. He is not a member of A. D. A. He is for the Monroe Doctrine, he is for getting the Communists out of Cuba, he is not a Left-Winger, he is a businessman, he has met a payroll. Senator Morton is a man of integrity — ability — experience.

MILTON SCHOOL—

A petition, bearing the signatures of all the colored citizens in the school district, was directed to the Fulton City Board of Education urging that a new building be built in the near future. With the Board's approval the petition was sent on to the State Board of Education.

Considerable delay and red tape followed, with the State announcing that there were too few students in the school to warrant a new building and several alternatives were offered, including that of integrating the elementary schools in the city. However, the Negro parents stood by their earlier pleas for the new school building and the State Board finally granted the request.

The local school board started work on plans and specifications and bids were soon received. Specifications were drawn up by architect Lee Potter Smith of Paducah and they were approved by the State Board. The contract was let in mid-December with Builders Supply, Inc. as low bidder.

It became necessary to redesign the foundation and to move it position on the property. The same type of foundation was used as that of buildings in New Orleans and in the region around the Florida Everglades.

The structure itself, plus the cost of the demolition of the remainder of the old building and the building up of the school site, has amounted to approximately $80,000. Instructional equipment and architectural fees increased the cost an additional $5000.

The building is on Thomas and Anderson streets and is centrally located to the colored section of Fulton. Students have been walking great distances to school while attending classes in the churches.

Only the first eight grades are now represented at Milton. The four high school grades were done away with in 1938 when the State Board of Education decided there weren't enough high school students attending to give it accreditation. Students were transported by bus to Riverview High School in Hickman until the in-
